Men of Dartmouth Richard Hovey '1885

Men of Dartmouth, give a rouse
For the college on the hill
For the Lone Pine above her,
And the loyal sons who love her.
Give a rouse, give a rouse, with a will!
For the sons of old Dartmouth
The sturdy sons of Dartmouth,
Though 'round the girdled earth they roam,
Her spell on them remains;
They have the still North in their hearts,
The hill winds in their veins,
And the granite of New Hampshire
In their muscles and their brains.
Men of Dartmouth set a watch
Lest the old traditions fail!
Stand as brother stands by brother!
Dare a deed for thee old Mother!
Greet the world, from the hills, with a hail!
For the sons of old Dartmouth,
The loyal sons of Dartmouth,
Around the world they keep for her
Their old chivalric faith;
They have the still North in their soul,
The hill winds in their breath,
And the granite of New Hampshire
Is made part of them 'til death.

Eleazar Wheelock song Richard Hovey 1885

Oh, Eleazar Wheelock was a very pious man;
He went into the wilderness to teach the Indian,
With a Gradus ad Parnassum, a Bible and a drum,
And five hundred gallons of New England rum.
Fill the bowl up! Fill the bowl up!
Drink to Eleazar,
And his primitive Alcazar,
Where he mixed drinks for the heathen in the goodness of his soul.

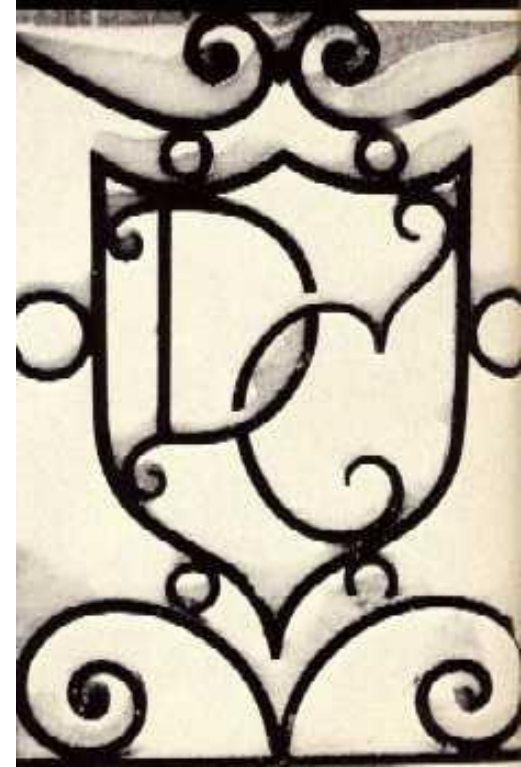

The big chief that met him was the sachem of the Wah-hoo-wahs;
If he was not a big chief, there was never one you saw who was;
He had tobacco by the cord, ten squaws, and more to come,
But he never yet had tasted of New England rum.
Fill the bowl up! Fill the bowl up!

Eleazar and the big chief harangued and gesticulated;
They founded Dartmouth College, and the big chief matriculated.
Eleazar was the faculty, and the whole curriculum
Was five hundred gallons of New England rum.
Fill the Bowl up! Fill the bowl up!

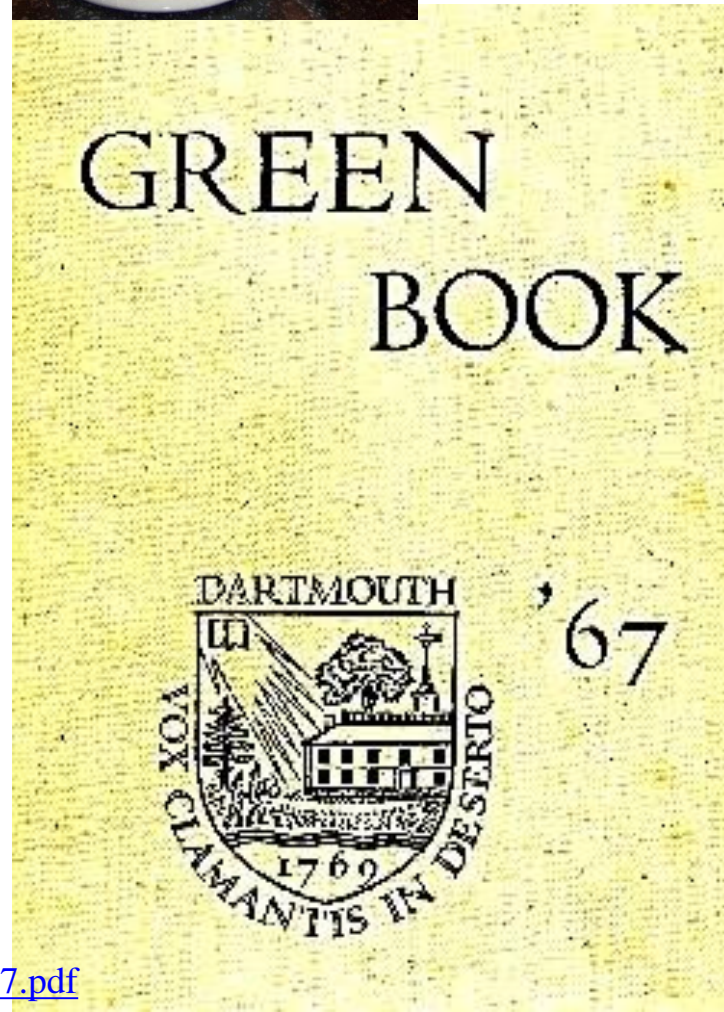

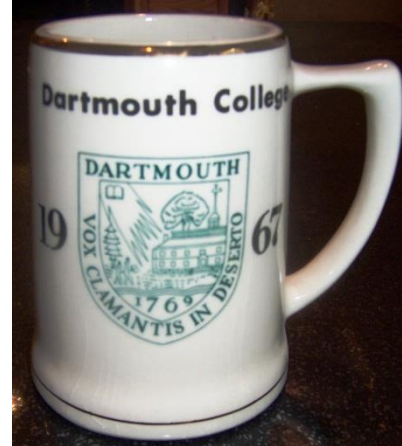

Men of Dartmouth, give a rouse
For the College on the hill
For the Lone Pine above her,
And the loyal sons who love her.

Welcome Home 67!

45th Reunion Schedule Set Interim President Folt to Address Class at '67 Memorial Grove

It's yet another record-breaking, College challenging, Great Class of 1967 October Reunion, October 11-13, 2012. Already over 45 classmates - joined by wives, partners, even children and grandchildren - have told us "we can't wait."

Some important reminders:

1. We're all on our own for lodging - College is in session. There is a complete list of local hotels/motels and B&B's in the Class newsletter. Click on the latest one in the right hand column on this page.
2. We're still in the process of setting the budget. We've used reply cards in the newsletter and an e-mail that got to over 450 67's to try and gauge attendance. If you haven't told us you're coming, you can do so by clicking on this link and telling the World's Greatest Reunion Chairman your plans (brucepacht67@gmail.com). Let us know who, how many in your party and whether you will be coming to all of the events in the schedule below. We will finalize the budget by September 1, based on the numbers, mail out registration cards and get ready to welcome you back to Hanover.

67' NEWS

45th Reunion - October 11 - 14, 2012

The Great Class has spoken and the vote was overwhelming for the Dartmouth tradition 67 truly started - an October Reunion! Our 45th will be held in the Hanover area on October 11-14 2012. The theme is "Target 50th - Be healthy and happy until 67's 50th and beyond."

We'll have three great dinners in some of the Upper Valley's neatest venues, talks with professors on subjects ranging from diet and nutrition to exercise to financial planning to "finding your next thing." There will be tours of the new Dartmouth facilities, a football game with the traditional 67 tent, planning discussions for the 50th and, as always, more time for enjoying each other than planned events. We won't have dorm rooms, of course, so you are on your own for lodging - although we are working on getting a small block of rooms at a local hotel. We will get you a list of the available locations with a range of prices in the near future. Many details are still to be worked out - so follow this space and the Class Newsletter for information and details.

See You in Five Years?

At last, the mystery of the Mayan calendar revealed.

December 21, 2012?

Sam Ostrow '67 : Dartmouth Alumni Award Recipient, 2008–09

Your father, Herb Ostrow '35, '36Tu, was a thoughtful man who appeared to refrain from influencing your college selection. However, a quiet level of persuasion existed since birth, when he hung over your crib a Dartmouth banner that remained in your bedroom throughout your childhood. Perhaps the seeds for your future career in subtle public relations were planted at that time.

As a Dartmouth undergraduate you participated on the freshman track and baseball teams, served as social chair of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity (where you were known as the band scheduling guru), and majored in religion. The fellowship of the Class of 1967 is well known, and you particularly enjoyed the lifelong friendships formed during that time.

Following graduation you returned to your hometown of Chicago to attend divinity school. The next few years were busy as you entered the field of public relations, attended law school, and entered politics to run campaigns for independent candidates. What better place to do this than Chicago? Graduating with distinction from John Marshall Law School, your public relations career skyrocketed as you worked as managing partner, president, and chief executive officer with major public relations consultancies, including serving as head of the public affairs, financial relations, and crisis management practices of two of the ten largest firms in the world. During this period you relocated to New York City and in 1994 you founded Ostrow & Partners, where you continue to handle issues in crisis management for large companies.

The bonds that were formed with classmates during your time in Hanover influenced you greatly. As a result, you have spent an extraordinary amount of time volunteering on behalf of your class, including serving as class and leadership agent, president, and member of both the reunion and the reunion giving committees. During your class presidency you were honored as Class President of the Year. Recognized for your leadership ability, you were president of the Class Presidents and the Class Officers Associations. In addition, you have been a member of the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine Editorial Board and the Dartmouth College Fund Committee; interviewed prospective Dartmouth students; served on the Alumni Council twice; and were an early member of Dartmouth Undying. In your 25th reunion book you commented on the camaraderie of the Class of 1967 as follows, "There is a commonality of spirit: a seriousness of purpose without taking the purpose too seriously; a passion for fun, now not at the expense of others, but at the expense of life's pains, absurdities, and limitations."

No less involved in your community, you have volunteered as president of the Pound Ridge Association and participated as a director of the Stamford Boys and Girls Club and Vision Management Corp. and as chairman of Lightworks Enterprises Inc. Recently you were named to the Board of Directors of the Red Cross of Westchester County.

My work is very personal -- expressing my fascination with the female face and form nude in nature. Much of my work is with women new to posing, and focuses on capturing their emotional and physical response to the new experience and the environment. Many of the images are made in locations that are also creative, challenging and risky -- bringing together the way we face each other as together we make art.

Seven Ages of Man

"All the world's a stage" begins a monologue from William Shakespeare's As You Like It, spoken by the melancholy Jacques in Act II, Scene VII. The speech compares the world to a stage and life to a play, and catalogues the seven stages of a man's life, sometimes referred to as the seven ages of man:

Infant (helpless, dependent)

Schoolboy (hesitant, uncertain)

Lover

Soldier (reputation, recognition)

Justice (wisdom, experience, prosperity, social status)

Old age (stature and personality diminish)

Second childhood (sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything)
